College of Agriculture,

Family Caregiver Health Bulletin

FEBRUARY 2014

Download this and past issues of the Adult, Youth, Parent and Family Caregiver Health Bulletins: www.ca.uky.edu/HEEL/Bulletins Reprinted by: K-State Research & Extension Atchison County Office 405 Main/PO Box 109 Effingham, KS 66023 913-833-5450

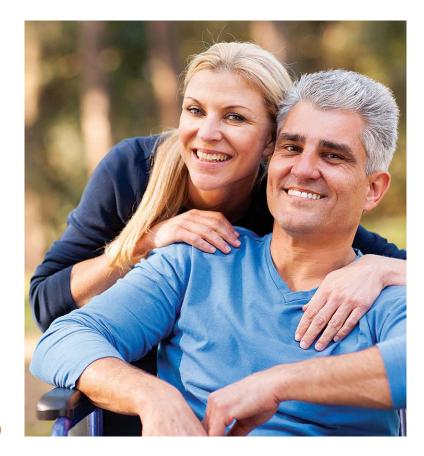

THIS MONTH'S TOPIC:

ADVICE FOR NEW CAREGIVERS

ccording to Rosalynn Carter, former first lady and president of the board of directors of the Rosalynn Carter Institute for Caregiving, "there are only four kinds of people in the world: those who have been caregivers, those who are currently caregivers, those who will be caregivers and those who will need caregivers." Despite the fact that most individuals will serve in some care role at some time in their life, there are almost no programs preparing individuals to serve as caregivers. This can lead to increased distress surrounding the care process. The Rosalynn Carter Institute for Caregiving addresses caregiving issues around the world by supporting and implementing evidenced-based programs and interventions. These programs focus on both family and professional caregivers for individuals of all ages living with chronic illness, disability and other health concerns. To browse RCI resources, go to rosalynncarter.org/ resources/ or call (229) 928-1234.

Continued on the back

It is easy to become overwhelmed with caregiving responsibilities. Remember that you are not alone.

Continued from page 1

Gathering resources and seeking support from organizations such as RCI are important first steps when it comes to caregiver preparation. According to Caregiver.org, additional steps include:

- Seeking an accurate diagnosis. It is essential to get a handle on the condition with which the person you are caring for is living. You should know how to best deal with it and plan for the future. Understanding a disease or diagnosis can also help the caregiver better understand a person's behavior.
- Talking about it.

 If the care recipient is competent and able, he or she should be included as an active contributor

"There are only four kinds of people in the world: those who have been caregivers, those who are currently caregivers, those who will be caregivers and those who will need caregivers."

Rosalynn Carter

Former first lady and president of the board of directors, Rosalynn Carter Institute for Caregiving and voice as part of the caregiving team.

Filing a Durable Power of Attorney can help caregivers make financial and health care decisions on behalf of a care recipient when the care recipient can no longer make decisions for themselves. To draw up such documents, contact an elder law specialist.

- Taking advantage of respite care. Respite care is short-term care that provides a break to caregivers and helps them better support and maintain a caregiving relationship.
- Taking care of yourself. It is easy to become overwhelmed with caregiving responsibilities.
 Remember that you are not alone. Support groups can be a healthy avenue for forming relationships with people who understand what you are going through.

REFERENCES:

- National Alliance for Caregiving. (2014). www.caregiving.org
- Rosalynn Carter Institute for Caregiving. www.rosalynncarter.org/
- Whitlatch CJ, Judge K, Zarit SH, Femia E. (2006). Dyadic intervention for family caregivers and care receivers in early-stage dementia. The Gerontologist; 46: 688-694.

RESOURCE:

Amy F. Hosier, Extension Specialist for Family Life

Written by: Amy Hosier, Ph.D. Extension Specialist for Family Life Edited by: Connee Wheeler Designed by: Rusty Manseau Stock images: 123RF.com